

Pumas fell Valpo in hard fought victory

STUFF

Vol. 28

St. Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Indiana, January 14, 1965

No. 12

Bench strength pays off. Saint Joseph's taught that short, bitter lesson to arch-rival Valparaiso Tuesday night as forward Lonnie Brunswick came off the bench late in the first half, then scored 18 points in the final 20 minutes to spark the Pumas to a rousing 68-61 victory before 3,000 screaming, stomping fans in the Alumni Fieldhouse.

Coach Jim Holstein's charges had trailed, 29-22, at half-time before the Pumas roared back with rugged rebounding and sharp shooting to take their third straight home victory over the Crusaders. The win gives Saint Joe a 2-1 Indiana Collegiate Conference record and an overall 9-2 mark. Valparaiso is now 2-2 in conference play and 6-3 overall.

Led by forwards Rich Enyon and Vern Curtis with eight and seven points respectively, Valpo connected on 12 of 24 field goals in the first twenty minutes while the Pumas were held to nine of 23 for a .391 percentage.

The Crusaders held their seven point advantage through the first five minutes of the second half until Brunswick's lay-in with 14:22 to play cut the margin to 38-33. Brunswick connected on 9 of 10 field goal tries in the half.

Two more free throws by Brunswick four minutes later moved Saint Joe in front, 46-45, for their first lead since the first five minutes of the game. The lead changed hands four times before two free throws by guard George Post with 1:25 to play moved the Pumas in front to stay, 60-58.

Saint Joe poured in 15 of 22 field goals in the second half for a .686 performance and out-rebounded the Crusaders, 14-7.

Although both teams notched 24 field goals, the Pumas won the game at the free throw line, where they sank 20 of 28 attempts for a .714 percentage. Valparaiso made 13 of 20 for a .650 mark.

Saint Joseph's next game is Saturday when the Pumas host Evansville's powerful Aces, the top-ranked small college team in the nation. The Aces stood 11-0 before their Wednesday-night clash with Kentucky Wesleyan, and include Notre Dame, Northwestern and Iowa among their victims. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Charles J. Schuttrow named publication director

CHARLES J. SCHUTTROW
Director of Public Information

Saint Joseph's College has named Charles J. Schuttrow Director of Public Information.

Schuttrow, a magna cum laude graduate of Saint Joseph's in June of 1963, had worked as a copy editor for the Indianapolis News since then. He also served as a sports writer and columnist for the News, edited the Catholic Youth Organization newspaper at Cathedral parish in Indianapolis and played semi-professional football in 1963, for the Bendix Brakes, who named him Most Valuable Player for the year.

During his college career, Schuttrow served as director of sports information in his junior and senior years. He also worked as a trainee on the copy desk of the South Bend Tribune during the summers following his sophomore and junior years.

TO DIRECT PUBLICATIONS

Schuttrow's duties will include direction of Saint Joseph's news bureau and sports information department and associate editorship of Contact and Parents, college publications for alumni and parents of students. He also will serve as an administrative advisor to Stuff and Phase, Saint Joseph's student newspaper and yearbook.

POST NEW CONCEPT

The creation of the post of director of public information involves a new concept at Saint Joseph's: the centralization of the college's entire publicity and public relations program under one head. Similar forms of organization have proved successful at many other colleges and universities, among them the University of Notre Dame and Purdue University.

New insurance is inaugurated

Saint Joseph's College has inaugurated the first long term disability income insurance program in its history to cover all full-time employees who have completed one year of service, the Business Office announced today.

The group insurance plan, underwritten by the Travelers Insurance Co. of Hartford, Conn., costs the employees nothing, as the college is contributing the entire amount of the cost.

The program guarantees employees a monthly income if they become disabled by sickness or injury and includes provisions for successive periods of disability and mental illness.

Benefits commence immediately for employees who have been continuously disabled for 60 days, with the college paying from the 61st through the 90th day. After that benefits will be payable by the underwriters.

The employee's benefit is an amount equal to 60 per cent of his basic monthly salary or wage, subject to a maximum of $8.00 per month. The amount payable for each day of total disability less than one month will be one-thirtieth of these monthly benefits.

This basic monthly salary or wage is exclusive of overtime and bonus pay and of extra remuneration of any kind.

Included among fringe benefits in the program is one providing free tuition ($425 per semester) at Saint Joseph's for children of employees who have been at the college for five successive years.

If the child of a five-year employee desires to attend another college or university, Saint Joseph's will pay $425 tuition per semester toward his or her education at the desired institution.

Valparaiso hit by Pumas who "RAZE" ... flag, paw

In keeping with tradition, a band of Puma raiders visited the Valparaiso University campus last Sunday night. The purpose of their trip was to raise a flag over the Valpo fieldhouse in preparation for the basketball game against the Crusaders Tuesday night. The trip, of course, was successful.

The caper was the work of juniors Jim Echle, Fred Meyer, Ed Emery, Dan Tyhe, Jerry Hieman and Bob Kaptine. The group of six arrived on the rival campus at about ten o'clock Sunday night and quickly went about their work, pausing only shortly so that one of the group could document the event in pictures.

The flag that was raised was a large white banner with the black Puma paw and the letters S.J.C. in red. According to Echle, the flag pole was in front of the Valpo fieldhouse, and, in his words,

"It was the biggest pole we could find. We tried to tie it so that they could not get it down right away."

The escapade was commendable, not only from the point of view that it kept up the tradition of pranks with our northern "enemies" but it also showed that this rivalry can be carried out without resorting to damage to property—a fact that is apparently unknown to a number of over-spirited students.

Grads to hear W. C. Dieruf

The Office of the Academic Dean has announced that W. C. Dieruf has been invited to be the main speaker at the January commencement exercises of Saint Joseph's College.

Mr. Dieruf, who has been awarded the Saint Joseph's College Alumni Merit Award, has been a member of the faculty of the University of Louisville for several years where he teaches the management of small business and other management subjects.

Mr. Dieruf's attention to the strategy and tactics of independent business has received considerable attention. He owns and operates a hardware business in Jeffersonton, and his experience in this area has been the subject of numerous articles in national magazines. Dieruf has also lectured at many colleges and seminars in the Mid-West and the South.

SYMPATHY

The staff of Stuff and all of the members of the Department of Public Information would like to convey their deepest sympathy to Mrs. Louise Ames, who is employed in the college bank, on the death of her husband, and to senior Ken Kudla, on the death of his brother. Our condolences to these two members of our community and their families.

Editor encourages Puma spirit but cautions against its misuse

Atomic power can be used for the benefit of mankind, or it can be used to wreak inestimable harm to the human race. The same is true with any number of things. Words, for example, are simply words. Isolate them and they are simply a systematic code of letters. However, use them in connection with other words, in a definite order, and they take on a definite meaning. This meaning is the factor which decides whether the words are to be used in a beneficial or a malevolent manner. We can apply this same formula of the possibility of good and evil potential to anything conceivable. And the formula applies on this campus now.

The basketball season, until now, has been a good one for the Pumas. With a 9-2 record the team and all of the supporters of the team can, and do, feel a justifiable amount of pride. The spirit, always good at Pumaville, this year has been overwhelming. Every home game boasts a capacity crowd that lets its presence be known by a fantastic amount of noise. Even the away games are well attended by loyal Pumas who support their team in rival gyms with as much enthusiasm as they do at home. Take the Butler game, for example.

All of this is good. However, this may be carried to an extreme and after this extreme is passed, then evil results may be seen. For example, it is known that the writing on the sidewalks outside of the library Monday was not the work of Valparaiso students, but of overzealous Pumas who reasoned that if they could make the student body believe that it was the work of Crusader pranksters, it would amplify the Saint Joe spirit.

It was, in our opinion, an ill-advised move. First, from the point of view that there was an actual defacing of property, no matter how trivial, it puts that much more of a burden on the maintenance department whose job it is to clean up the mess. Secondly, it has been stated that our rivalry with Valpo is a healthy one. An action such as this, along with attempted retaliation and counter retaliation, drawn out and becoming less of a joke all the time, can turn the healthy rivalry into actual animosity, and this is not to be desired at any time.

This spirit that has infected the Saint Joe campus more than any flu epidemic, is wonderful—keep it up! It is only our opinion that, like anything else, this spirit must be watched as to the outlets it seeks. It can work for good or for evil. As in all things, it's all a question of channeling.

Dear Cynthia:

Four Puma coeds have ugly problem

Dear Cynthia,

We four coeds have an enormous problem. We all have a mad crush on the same guy.

We have several solutions to our problem. (1) We could draw straws (2) we could alternate daily for his affections; (3) we could hold a Bridge play-off; or (4) we could all give him up.

He's a real Saint Joe man from the top of his handsome head to the tip of his tiny (?) toes.

What should we do?

Signed
Desparata

Dear Desparata,

You could also have a sword duel but still there would be some hurt feelings among you. So, I suggest that you each make a play for his affections, and let him do the choosing. That way the other three of you can gang up and bestow your witch's curses upon the poor fellow.

Love, Cynthia

Dear Cynthia,

Please, please, please! How do you get rid of a cowlick?

Dear Cowlick,

Invest a few pennies in a tube of that non-greasy kid stuff. If that doesn't work, then get a pair of sissors and cut it off. If the bald spot bothers you, put a band-aid over it.

SCHEDULE OF FINAL EXAMINATIONS — Semester I, 1964-65

The examination periods will correspond with the semester class periods as indicated below. The classroom will be the same as during the semester. The examination period is an hour and fifty minutes.

Where a class meets during the semester on a two-day sequence rather than on a three-day, it will still follow the examination period assigned to the three-day sequence. Where a class meets on both the Monday and Tuesday sequence, the instructor will decide which of the two possible periods will be used. In the area of the Natural Sciences, the examination period is determined by the semester lecture periods rather than the laboratory periods.

Dean of Students' plan to ban horns felt harmful, unnecessary

It has come to the attention of the editors of this paper that, in the near future, a step is being considered that would be not only harmful to the tradition and general attitude that is growing on this campus, but would be, to our thinking, completely unnecessary. We refer to the plan on the part of the Office of the Dean of Students to ban the use of horns and noise makers at the Puma basketball games.

It is not often that we presume to question an action by the Dean's Office, but in this case we feel that, for the best interest of the student body, and the furthering of tradition which has been such a sore point in past years, we must make comment upon this situation.

The main reason that has been voiced is that these noise makers interfere with the broadcast of the radio stations that carry the Saint Joe games. However, anyone who has listened to any of these games will admit that no such interference exists. The broadcast comes over loud and clear, with no more background noise than is to be expected on any program a play-by-play of a college basketball game.

It has been further said that there have been numerous complaints from the town people who come to the games. One wonders how many complaints have been made, but the main thing to keep in mind is that this is a college team, and the fans that this team is playing for, primarily, are the students of the college. If these students are proud of their team, and if they see fit to give vent to their pride in a display of noise, why discourage them?

Saint Joe has been noted for the chaos of the fieldhouse during a basketball game. The student body is respected for the spirit that they display. It is part of the growing tradition that has been clamored for by so many people who have the good of the college at heart. To take that away now would deal a serious blow to what so many have so hard worked for.

Finally, there is only one thing that we can suggest. The Office of the Dean of Students has, in the past year, acquired a reputation for having a deep belief that the students of Saint Joseph's are mature, responsible men. Why not make a request by themselves? Why does anything have to be banned without giving the students a chance to correct the situation themselves? It is the belief of this paper that the students who make such good use of the horns can be made to see that there are times when it would be desirable to refrain from tooting. We are certain that these men would not be unreasonable. In this way tradition would be preserved, and the circumstances that seem to be unbearable to a few would be made a great deal more acceptable.

From the Pressbox Bruns, Whitey and TC mix delicious fish meal for Valpo

by john halpin

The night was a complete success. Not only did the underclassmen find out where the town of Valparaiso was, but Jim Holstein discovered a few new things on his roster. First there was a former star, who had been occupying a seat very near the end of the bench for the entire season. His name? Lonnie Brunswick!

Lonnie had been bothered by a combination of injuries and an unsteady shooting eye. Holstein would put him into a game and the shots just wouldn't fall. He began pressing and things got worse instead of better. Having previously broken the shooting percentage record, it must have been discouraging to Lonnie to have nights where three of fifteen would drop into the little hole. Then came the Valpo game. Lon took his warm-ups and then settled down to a night of hoping to get in to the action. A dismissal of one of the starters gave him his chance. He not only took over the position, he took over the game. His nine baskets in ten tries turned the contest from disaster to ecstasy for the loyal horn blowers and garbage can beaters from Pumaville. I doubt if number 34 will spend another evening watching someone else get introduced as a starting forward. Welcome back, big fellow!

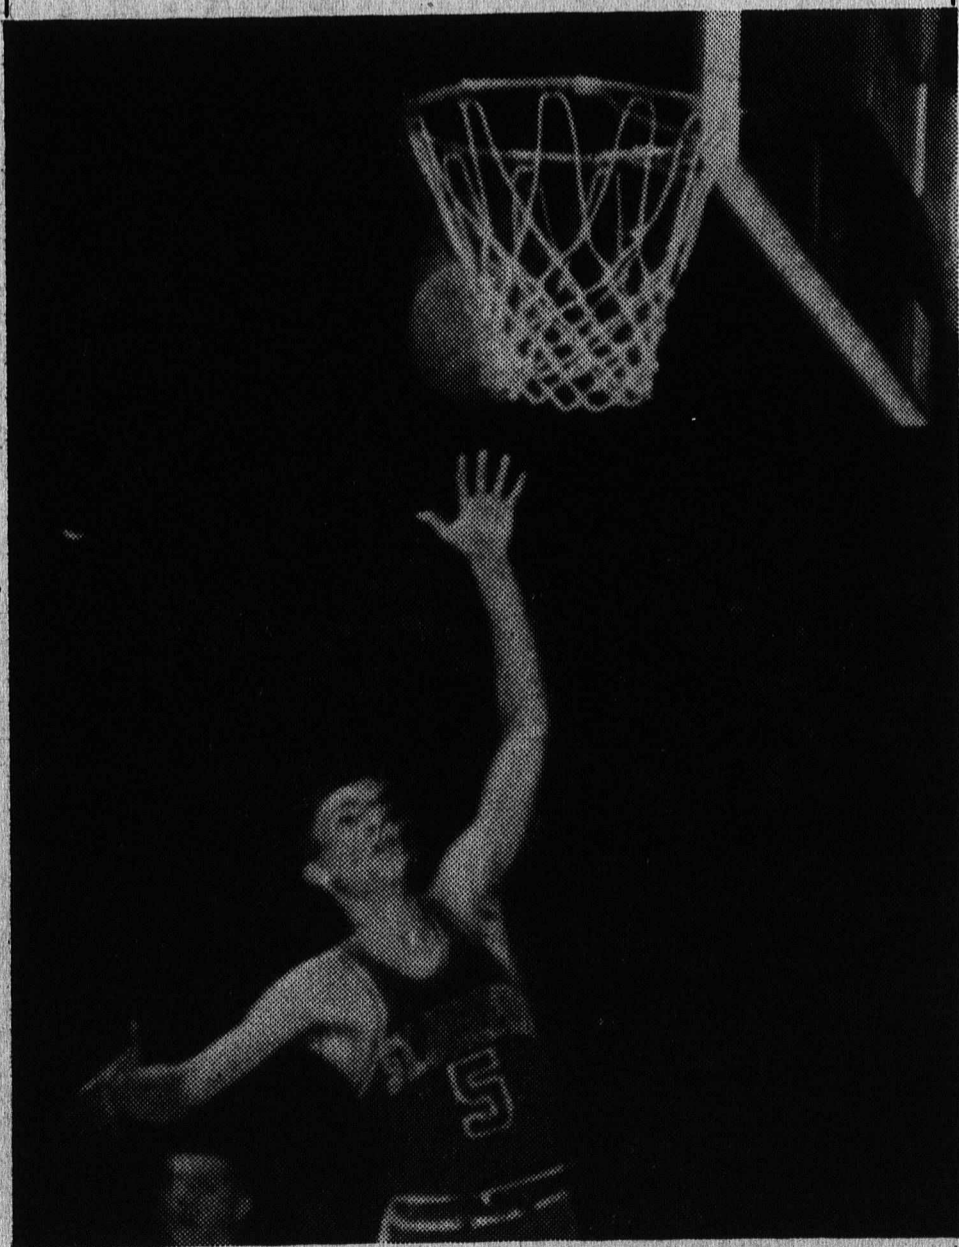

The other discovery was not quite as evident to the Saint Joe fans. This was the courage of one George Post. The loyal fans that turned out for the pep rally in the fieldhouse Monday noted that "Whitey" took a pass on practice rather early. What was not known is that he had a 102 temperature, along with a bad case of the flu. It seems that both of George's roommates had had the flu the previous week. With the Butler game last Saturday, George didn't feel it was necessary to tell Coach of his slight case of the flu that was coming on. He took aspirins and thought it would go away. However, it, like Brunswick's shooting, got worse instead of better.

This problem of an athlete that hides an injury or a sickness is one that will perplex coaches as long as there are sports. The coach could just "wring the neck" of an athlete that does this, but still he has to admire the player that puts the team before his own personal well being. Probably the best example of this is what George told me prior to the game. When I asked him about his health. "Don't worry about me, we came here to win." This is the sign of a fine team player and a man that is a credit to our College as a whole.

The other discovery was a junior that follows in his brother's footsteps. Tom, please don't call him T. C., Puma Bob, Crowley proved himself to be able to carry the load when the pressure is on. Tom kept us in the game with his fine outside shooting and floor work. Without young Tom, I doubt if we would have broken ten points for the first half. Tom hit on jumper after jumper when the pressure was on to keep us with in distance of the red hot Crusaders; they hit on 58 percent of their shots.

The work of these three coupled with fine defensive work of "C" Bessung and Larry Yeagley, led to a sweet victory. It's great to be a winner, but over the non "fish eaters" it's twice as good.

Broussard stars in frosh victory over Valparaiso

By JIM SAUL

A basket by Kenny "The Cat" Broussard with 20 seconds left in the game gave the Saint Joe freshman basketball team a 77-75 win over the Valparaiso Crusaders last Tuesday night in Alumni Fieldhouse.

The Pumas had a 15 point lead at 16:45 of the second half but in the next five minutes the Crusaders outscored them 17-6. Smooth ball handling Bill Biros then tipped one in for Saint Joe and Broussard hit a long bomb to give them some breathing room.

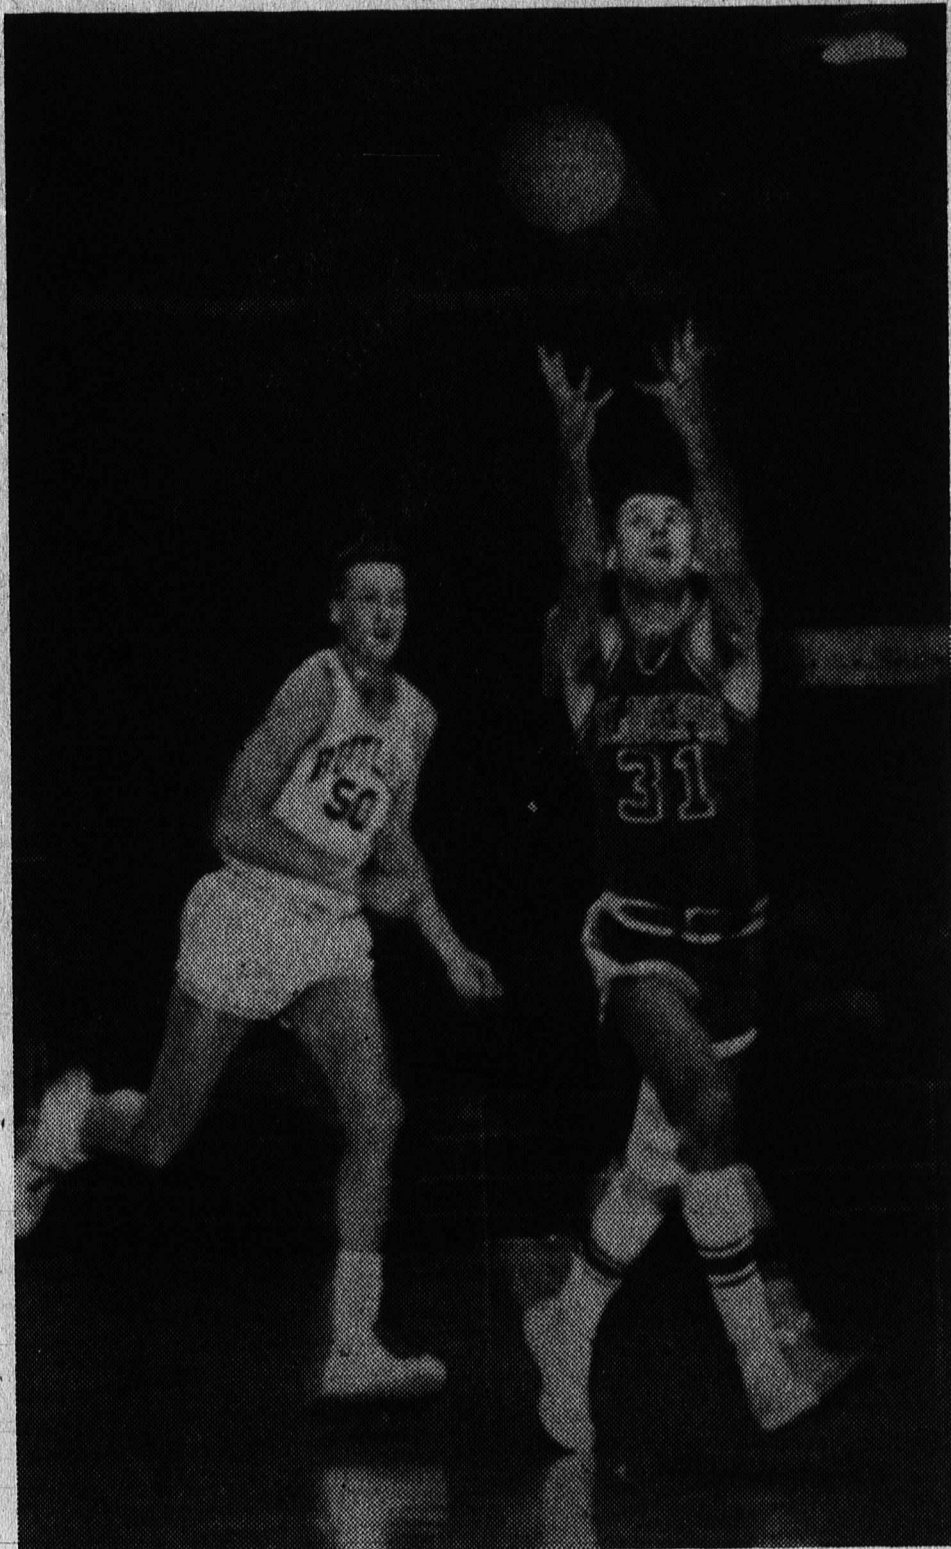

Valpo's Jim Schrader, who led all scorers with 27 points, and Dick Burrell continued to match the Pumas basket for basket, but Biros, Denny Potts and sub Ron Dierkes built the Frosh's lead to 66-55 with seven minutes to go.

Dick Briars, who had 14 points in the second half, dumped in two corner shots for Valpo and back came the Crusaders. But the Pumas went into their semi-stall offense and got some clutch points from Broussard and Big John Flick. Schrader then got Valpo's next six points to cut the lead to 75-73 with 42 seconds left. Broussard then got the winning bucket on a fine feed from Dierkes.

Besides Schrader's 7 points, Burrell and Briars tallied 20 and 16 respectively.

Broussard was high man for the Pumas with 21 points. "Quick Kenny" also hauled down 9 rebounds and had 5 assists. Potts turned in a fine performance with 19 points and 13 rebounds, while Biros scored 15 points.
